Introduction

This lesson covers the earned income credit (EIC). There are several common errors associated with claiming this credit on the return. Publication 4012, Volunteer Resource Guide, and the intake and interview sheet are critical tools in avoiding these mistakes.

Objectives

At the end of this lesson, using your resource materials, you will be able to:

• Determine if a taxpayer is eligible for the earned income credit
• Calculate the earned income credit

What is the EIC?

The earned income credit (EIC) is a refundable tax credit for most people who work but do not earn high incomes. The purpose of the EIC is to reduce their tax burden and to supplement the wages of working families whose earnings are less than the maximums for their filing status. Eligible taxpayers can receive a refund with this credit, even if they have no filing requirement, owe no tax, and had no income tax withheld.

The EIC can be a very valuable credit. The EIC was permanently expanded to allow families to claim credit for three or more children. The EIC amounts are adjusted for inflation every year.

The EIC is reported in the Payments section of the tax return.

How does a taxpayer qualify for the EIC?

There are general sets of rules for claiming the earned income credit:

• Rules for everyone
• Rules for taxpayers with a qualifying child
• Rules for taxpayers who do not have a qualifying child

What rules apply to everyone?

The taxpayer must meet all the rules to qualify for the earned income credit. Turn to the chart titled Summary of EIC Eligibility Requirements in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab. Review Part A, Rules for Everyone, and Part D, Earned Income and AGI Limitations.
What is “earned” income for EIC purposes?

Earned income is wages, salaries, tips, and other taxable employee pay. Turn to the Earned Income Table in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, for examples of earned income.

One type of payment considered earned income is “taxable long-term disability benefits received prior to minimum retirement age.” Taxpayers with disabilities can sometimes receive a disability pension from their employer even though they are younger than the minimum retirement age. Minimum retirement age is generally the age at which taxpayers can first receive a pension or annuity from their employer if they are not disabled. Taxpayers usually receive Form 1099-R reporting the pension.

Turn to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab, Form 1099-R. Find the page showing Form 1099-R with Code G or 6, Rollovers. A distribution code of “3” in box 7 indicates this is a disability pension. If the taxpayer is under the plan’s minimum retirement age, this income is reported on line 7 of Form 1040. If the taxpayer is at or above the company’s minimum retirement age, this would be reported as a regular pension. Sometimes the employer does not change the code in box 7 to indicate it is now regular pension income. If this is the case, the taxpayer should request a corrected Form 1099-R from the employer.

Tax Software Hint: Volunteers using software must check the box in the Rollover or Disability section of the Form 1099-R input screen to report disability as wages. To review information on reporting disability income for a person under retirement age, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Income tab.

What about combat pay?

Combat pay is never taxable to most soldiers. Members of the U.S. Armed Forces who served in a combat zone may elect to include their nontaxable combat pay in their earned income for the purposes of computing this credit only. Doing this may increase or decrease the taxpayer’s EIC. Figure the EIC amount with and without the pay before making the election. If the election is made, all of the nontaxable combat pay must be included. If both spouses filing a joint return have combat pay, they can individually choose to make the election on the tax return.

Tax Software Hint: If a taxpayer has combat pay listed in box 12 of Form W-2 marked with code Q, the software will determine if the combat pay should or should not be added to your taxpayer’s income.

What about self-employment income?

Net earnings from self-employment are considered earned income. For most taxpayers within the scope of the VITA/TCE programs, “net earnings” for EIC purposes will be the amount reported on line 12 of Form 1040, minus the deductible portion of the self-employment tax that is reported in the Adjusted Gross Income section of the tax return.
Reminder: Nonwage income received for doing work (such as for side jobs or contract labor) is self-employment income, even for taxpayers who do not think of themselves as “self-employed.” All self-employment income and expenses are required to be reported on Schedule C-EZ, Net Profit from Business, or Schedule C, Profit or Loss from Business. Taxpayers not meeting the VITA/TCE programs’ requirements for filing Schedules C and C-EZ will need to seek the assistance of a professional tax preparer.

What about household employee income?

Domestic employees such as housekeepers, are only issued Form W-2 if their earnings are more than a certain amount. Refer to Publication 926, Household Employer’s Guide, for other tax year amounts. The income should be added to line 7 on Form 1040. This income should also be included when calculating the EIC.

Earned income not qualifying for the EIC

One income item that is reported on Form W-2, but does not qualify as earned income for EIC purposes, is income received for work while an inmate is in a penal institution (including work performed while in a work release program or while in a halfway house). Refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, to find this listed in the Earned Income Table.

Tax Software Hint: Income received for work while an inmate is in a penal institution must be entered in the Other Income section, Other Compensation, then Prisoner Earned Income line.

EXERCISES

Use the Summary of EIC Eligibility Requirements Chart in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, to answer the following questions. Answers follow the lesson summary.

Question 1: A taxpayer is filing as Married Filing Separately. Does this taxpayer qualify for the EIC?
- Yes □ No □

Question 2: A taxpayer has interest income of $4,500. His earned income is only $7,000. He is single, has a valid Social Security number and is not the qualifying child of anyone else. Does he qualify for the EIC?
- Yes □ No □

What are the rules for taxpayers with qualifying children?

The taxpayer can file Form 1040 to claim the EIC with a qualifying child. The taxpayer has a qualifying child for EIC purposes if the child meets all the tests outlined in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, to find this listed in the Earned Income Table.
Taxpayers have the option to choose which taxpayer will claim the child. Tiebreaker rules apply when the child is claimed by multiple taxpayers.

example

Robyn is 25 years old. She and her 2-year-old son, Aiden, lived with Robyn’s mother all year. Aiden has a valid Social Security number.

Todd does not pay any expenses or support for any other family member. Although Todd provided over half the cost of a home for Jane and Amanda, he cannot file Head of Household and he cannot claim the child for EIC, since Amanda did not live with him more than half the year. Jane cannot file as Head of Household either. Review the Filing Status for Head of Household rules in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Filing Status tab.

Jane is the only one who can claim Amanda as a qualifying child for EIC. Review the Earned Income Credit rules in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab.

What are the rules for a qualifying child of more than one person?

A child who meets the conditions to be a qualifying child of more than one person can only be claimed by one taxpayer for the EIC.

example

Robyn is 25 years old. She and her 2-year-old son, Aiden, lived with Robyn’s mother all year. Aiden has a valid Social Security number.

Using the Interview Tips (EIC with a Qualifying Child) from the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, based on what we have learned so far about Robyn and her family:

Step 1 is YES
Step 2 is YES
Step 3 is YES
Step 4 is NO
Step 5 is YES

For step 6, check to see if Aiden can be anyone else’s qualifying child, for EIC purposes.

Who else lived in the house that is related to Aiden? Robyn’s mother also lives with them. Go through the steps to see if Aiden can be a qualifying child for Robyn’s mother.

For EIC purposes, a qualifying child does not have to be the taxpayer’s dependent (unless the child is married). In the case of divorced or separated parents, the custodial parent (with whom the child lived for more than half the year) can qualify for the EIC regardless of whether or not they claim the dependency exemption for the child. The noncustodial parent cannot qualify for EIC because the child did not live with them for more than half the year.

Jane, 31, and Todd, 33, have an 8-year-old daughter, Amanda. All are U.S. citizens and have valid SSNs. Jane and Todd have never been married. Jane and Amanda lived together all year in an apartment. Todd lived alone. Jane earned $15,000 working as a clerk in a clothing store. Todd is an assistant manager of a hardware store and earned $48,000. He paid over half Jane’s rent and utilities, and also gave Jane extra money for groceries.

Todd does not pay any expenses or support for any other family member. Although Todd provided over half the cost of a home for Jane and Amanda, he cannot file Head of Household and he cannot claim the child for EIC, since Amanda did not live with him more than half the year. Jane cannot file as Head of Household either. Review the Filing Status for Head of Household rules in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Filing Status tab.

Jane is the only one who can claim Amanda as a qualifying child for EIC. Review the Earned Income Credit rules in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab.

Earned Income Credit (EIC)

Tax Software Hint: List children from youngest to oldest in the software. For more information, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab.

What are the rules for taxpayers without qualifying children?

Taxpayers can claim the EIC without a qualifying child. Confirm that the taxpayer and spouse cannot be claimed as dependents by their parents or anyone else. Review the rules in the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credit tab, under Part C, Rules If You Do Not Have a Qualifying Child.

TIP

Taxpayers turning 25 on January 1 are considered to be of age as of December 31. Taxpayers reaching the age of 65 on January 1 are still considered 64 as of December 31. Taxpayers in either of these situations whose return is rejected may need to file a paper return.

TIP

For a couple filing a joint return, only one taxpayer has to meet the age requirement.

EXERCISES (continued)

Using the interview tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide, determine if each of these taxpayers has a qualifying child or can claim the EIC. Each child has a valid Social Security number.

Question 3: Maureen’s 20-year-old daughter, Angie, lived with her for eight months of the year. Angie is not married and is a full-time college student. Is Angie a qualifying child for the EIC? □ Yes □ No

Question 4: Starting in February of the tax year, Sam has cared for Lisa, the 10-year-old daughter of his stepson. Does Lisa meet the EIC requirements for a qualifying child? □ Yes □ No

Question 5: Three children live with Mira, who cares for them as her own: Twila, the 3-year-old daughter of Mira’s cousin; Chez, Mira’s newly adopted 2-year-old son from Europe, who has lived with Mira since November of the tax year; and Dwight, Mira’s 20-year-old son, who attends community college part time. Which of them are qualifying children? □ Twila □ Chez □ Dwight □ None

Question 6: Margie’s daughter, Aimee, turned 23 early in the tax year while attending college full time. Margie is filing as Head of Household. Margie has an AGI of $31,000. Assuming that she and her daughter pass all other tests, can Margie claim the EIC? □ Yes □ No

Question 7: Rob and Laura are divorced. Laura is the custodial parent for Dawn, who lived with her all year. Laura signed Form 8332, allowing Rob to claim the dependency exemption for Dawn until she turns 18. Can Rob claim Dawn for the EIC? □ Yes □ No

Question 8: Jewel and her daughter lived with Jewel’s brother, Emmitt all year. Jewel earns $20,000 and claims her daughter as the qualifying child for the EIC. Emmitt is 25 years old and earned $8,500. Is Emmitt able to claim the EIC for a taxpayer without a qualifying child? □ Yes □ No
How should I handle a taxpayer whose EIC was disallowed in a prior year?

The intake and interview sheet asks if the taxpayer was previously disallowed EIC in a prior year because special rules apply. If the taxpayer answers “yes” to this question, refer to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Earned Income Credits tab, Disallowance of the Earned Income Credit.

How is the correct EIC amount calculated?

The credit is determined using worksheets and the Earned Income Credit tables. The EIC worksheets can be found in Publication 596 or Form 1040 Instructions. The software will determine the amount of EIC.

Class Exercise

A taxpayer is filing Head of Household and has one qualifying child. The earned income and AGI is $19,000. How much EIC is the taxpayer entitled to?

Turn to the first page of the EIC tables. Find the amount in the “At least - But less than” column. Find the correct filing status column: Single, head of household and qualifying widow(er), or in a separate column, married filing jointly. There are subcolumns for the number of qualifying children.

The EIC amount is entered on the Earned Income Credit line in the Payments section of the return.

Tax Software Hint: To review information related to the software, go to the Volunteer Resource Guide, Preparing the Return tab. The software automatically calculates the credit based on the information entered in the Filing Status, Personal Information, Dependent Information, and Income sections.

Summary

The earned income credit computation is based on filing status, number of qualifying children, earned income, and adjusted gross income. Certain individuals with no children may also qualify.

By using the intake and interview sheet, the interview tips in the Volunteer Resource Guide and correctly filling out the EIC worksheets, most of the errors that arrive from incorrectly computing the EIC can be avoided.

The EIC is entered in the Payments section of the return.

TAX LAW APPLICATION USING THE WORKBOOK

To gain a better understanding of the tax law, complete the comprehensive problem or practice exercise(s) for your course of study in Publication 4491-W.

For practice using the tax preparation software, complete the scenarios using the Practice Lab on L&LT.
EXERCISE ANSWERS

Answer 1: No. Married Filing Separately does not qualify for the EIC.

Answer 2: No. His investment income exceeds the limit.

Answer 3: Yes. Daughter Angie meets all the eligibility tests to be a qualifying child.

Answer 4: Yes. Lisa is a descendent of Sam’s stepson and meets the other eligibility requirements.

Answer 5: None of the children under Mira’s care are qualifying children for the EIC. Twila does not meet the relationship test, Chez does not meet the residency test, and Dwight does not meet the age test.

Answer 6: Yes. Margie meets the general eligibility requirements and Aimee meets the Qualifying Child rules.

Answer 7: No. While Rob can claim his daughter as a dependent, the daughter did not live with him for more than half the year, so she fails the residency test. Dawn is the qualifying child of Laura.

Answer 8: Yes. Jewel’s daughter is not the qualifying child of Emmitt, but he can claim the EIC for a taxpayer without a qualifying child.
